

Hal Leonard Australia Application for Licensing Rights

Terms & Conditions

This document sets out the rules that govern your application to Hal Leonard Australia Pty Ltd for the granting of theatrical performance rights in respect of the theatrical work named in your application.

By completing and submitting an application for theatrical performance rights, you agree to be bound by the following terms and conditions:

1. Hal Leonard Australia is entitled to accept or reject your application in its unfettered discretion.
2. Hal Leonard Australia's decision is final. Hal Leonard Australia is not required to, and will not enter into, any discussions concerning the grounds on which your application has been approved or rejected.
3. Nothing contained in the application form that you download from Hal Leonard Australia's website or otherwise obtain from Hal Leonard Australia, is to be taken to represent, warrant or guarantee that your application will be successful. Hal Leonard Australia does not represent, warrant or guarantee that it will accept your application.
4. Hal Leonard Australia will not be held liable for any loss or damage you or a third party may suffer in relation to your application.
5. You warrant to Hal Leonard Australia that all information that you provide to Hal Leonard Australia in support of your application is accurate and correct. Hal Leonard Australia reserves its right to recover any loss or damage it may suffer as a result of its reliance on information that turns out to be inaccurate or incorrect, that you provide to it.
6. These terms and conditions will be governed by the laws of Victoria, Australia. By completing and lodging an application, you are taken to have consented and submitted to the jurisdiction of the Victorian courts in relation to all proceedings, transactions, applications or the like brought either by you or Hal Leonard, arising from these terms and conditions, your application, or in the administration of licensing rights.
